PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Designer turned product manager with 15 years building web products that inspire. I lead product areas within Kaiser Permanente's MyKP employee experience portal, for an audience of 233,000 people across multiple markets and states. I live in design tools every day, Figma and Claude especially, and pair product strategy with hands-on design, information architecture, and content strategy. At Kaiser, two of my projects were named finalists for the 2025 Kaiser Trailblazer Award, an AI chat agent and a large-scale content migration. I also founded and run Wildsite Co., a small design studio, on the side.

EXPERIENCE

Product Manager, MyKP Employee Experience Portal | Kaiser Permanente

Oct 2024 to Present

- Own the product vision, strategy, and roadmap for five HR domains on the MyKP portal: compensation, contingent workforce, hiring, position management, and labor.
- Lead the full product lifecycle from discovery through launch, translating business needs into design and technical requirements delivered across engineering and content teams.
- Iterate and improve AI-powered enhancements, including conversational chat and personalization backed by HR data syndicated from multiple sources.
- Partner daily with design, engineering, and product leadership on both strategy and execution, prioritizing with user insights and analytics.
- Direct large-scale content migration and governance, keeping standards and templates accurate and consistent across employees in multiple markets.

Digital Content Experience Lead, MyKP Portal | Kaiser Permanente

earlier tenure

- Defined content strategy, governance, and stakeholder engagement for the MyKP HR portal, establishing delivery standards, templates, and guidelines across a large information architecture.
- Managed the content design track end-to-end, from intake through design, approval, and launch, navigating reviews with many stakeholders and approvers.
- Used web analytics to surface usage patterns and drive UX improvements, partnering with UX and UI design, user research, and front-end development.

Founder & Designer, Wildsite Co. | Freelance Design Studio

Apr 2024 to Present

- Design and deliver landing pages, websites, and web products for small businesses, startups, and tech companies, covering UX and product design, copywriting, and branding.
- Work fluently in Figma and modern design systems across desktop and mobile.

Senior Content Strategist | Phase2 Technology

Oct 2021 to Jul 2023

- Led content operations for large-scale digital solutions across healthcare and professional services, some projects 30,000 plus pages in scope.
- Partnered with product managers, engineers, brand and digital strategists, writers, accessibility specialists, QA, and data analysts to deliver complex web projects on schedule.
- Authored content audits, migration plans, user guides, and governance documentation, advising UX and visual designers on content requirements and scope.
- Clients included Tufts Medical Center, Gundersen Health System, AdventHealth, and BJC Healthcare.

UX Web Producer | Wells Fargo Bank

Feb 2021 to Sep 2021

- Managed the end-to-end customer experience design review process for complex financial web applications.
